

From Editor's Desk.....

"Knowledge is power. Knowledge shared is power multiplied".

—Robert Boyce

In the latest edition, the editor in chief thanks contributors and the team, noting the journal's growth into a leading source of dental research. Knowledge flows and shifts, and in sharing it, we touch the deeper streams of wisdom. Often, just a few changes can profoundly impact a community, especially when driven by restless minds and an unquenchable thirst for knowledge.

The editorial highlights the need for research focused on affordable dental care for impoverished populations in India, urging academic efforts that translate into clinical practice.

With this spirit, the Editorial Board proudly presents the June issue of the International Journal of Maxillofacial Imaging.
